Answer: Indeed, for this specific works there could be used at least two different ways: 1) the heating may be temporarily interrupted (for some hours) or 2) plugs may be installed in order to interrupt heating in the required area. The best way will be determined in place considering the working environment.

During the discussions Mr. Andrei Vasilachi, SCBM Programme Civil Engineer, pointed that the Final Commissioning Report is the only prove of acceptance of executed works. Also, Mr. Vasilachi underlined that among the required works there are works related to low voltage networks, the company will have to prove that they can execute such works, given that there are only 2 companies in the region authorized to do these works (e.g. subcontracting).
