PFIP is leading an initiative called "Impact Pathways", which is a mixed methods approach of understanding the impact of financial services particularly for the Pacific Financial Inclusion Programme (PFIP) partners. The project has three components: a) literature review b) data analytics, b) customer survey. This consultancy would be focused on component c, the customer survey, while PFIP would be leading the other two components. The project would be conducted in three countries: PNG, Fiji, and Solomon Islands, as PFIP partners agree to participate.

Background

The Pacific Financial Inclusion Programme (PFIP) is a joint programme of the United Nations Capital Development Fund (UNCDF) and United Nations Development Programme (UNDP). PFIP receives funding support from the Australian Government's Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), the European Union (EU), and the New Zealand Government's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade. The purpose of the PFIP is to increase access to sustainable, appropriate and affordable financial services by low-income and rural people in the Pacific Island Countries (PICs). PFIP does this by providing technical advice and assistance to public and private stakeholders and by making performance-based grants to financial service providers. The primary countries of focus of the PFIP are Fiji, Papua New Guinea (PNG), Samoa, Solomon Islands (SOI), Tonga and Vanuatu. More information on PFIP may be found at www.pfip.org.

The project seeks to understand the impact of using services from three financial institutions, from three different countries: Papua New Guinea (PNG), Fiji and Solomon Islands. Stage 3: Conduct survey using CATI

- Conduct as many phone calls as necessary to achieve a minimum of 1,000 completed interviews per country;

- Ensure data quality, through supervision of live interviews, continuous data checks, final data cleaning, and random call-backs to a minimum of 10% of the sample;
- A list of phone numbers will be provided by PFIP. However, there may be a need to implement quotas on certain segments (to be determined). All questions will be closed-ended, although there may be questions with "Other/Specify" responses, where qualitative responses will need to be recorded. Certain characteristics or past financial behaviors of the respondents will be provided ahead of time. These will be used to determine which questions will be asked.

Stage 4: Post Project Debriefing and provision of data set

- Provide the final data from the survey to PFIP;
