30. Evaluation of Technical and Financial Proposals

- 30.1 The evaluation team shall review and evaluate the Technical Proposals on the basis of their responsiveness to the Terms of Reference and other RFP documents, applying the evaluation criteria, sub-criteria, and point system specified in the Section 4 (Evaluation Criteria). A Proposal shall be rendered non-responsive at the technical evaluation stage if it fails to achieve the minimum technical score indicated in the BDS. When necessary and if stated in the BDS, UNDP may invite technically responsive bidders for a presentation related to their technical proposals. The conditions for the presentation shall be provided in the bid document where required.
- 30.2 In the second stage, only the Financial Proposals of those Bidders who achieve the minimum technical score will be opened for evaluation. The Financial Proposals corresponding to Technical Proposals that were rendered non-responsive shall remain unopened, and, in the case of manual submission, be returned to the Bidder unopened. For emailed Proposals and e-tendering submissions, UNDP will not request for the password of the Financial Proposals of bidders whose Technical Proposal were found not responsive.
- 30.3 The evaluation method that applies for this RFP shall be as indicated in the BDS, which may be either of two (2) possible methods, as follows: (a) the lowest priced method which selects the lowest evaluated financial proposal of the technically responsive Bidders; or (b) the combined scoring method which will be based on a combination of the technical and financial score.
- 30.4 When the BDS specifies a combined scoring method, the formula for the rating of the Proposals will be as follows:

Rating the Technical Proposal (TP):

TP Rating = (Total Score Obtained by the Offer / Max. Obtainable Score for TP) x 100

Rating the Financial Proposal (FP):

FP Rating = (Lowest Priced Offer / Price of the Offer Being Reviewed) x 100

Section 5. Terms of Reference

Terms of Reference

Innovation for effective public services delivery and entrepreneurial skills promotion for social and economic change

1. Project context & Description:

- i. UNDP Pakistan is scaling up its community recovery work in Balochistan by transforming it into a local, area-based development programme with social innovation as a cross cutting theme. The programme will support the creation of the necessary conditions for stability (citizen-state trust building) through inclusive local development planning processes, addressing basic local infrastructure and livelihoods needs, and make tangible progress towards the achievement of the SDGs. While leveraging a pilot project funded by the Country Investment Facility and the Government of Balochistan, this programme aims to find innovative and sustainable solutions to address Balochistan's development challenges by showcasing local government delivery on Pakistan's Sustainable Development Goals. It will support improved delivery of basic public services including water, health and education etc; and also to create employment generation and improved livelihoods. Social Innovation will be mainstreamed across all the activities to create a greater impact through employing innovative solutions for realizing SDGs. The project will be specifically focused on three outputs: 1) Building capacities of the local governments to effectively plan and deliver services in order to achieve the SDGs; 2) Accelerating the delivery of the SDGs by investing in basic services to address immediate and urgent needs with a special focus on the needs of women and vulnerable groups, and 3) Developing alternative livelihoods for both men and women and stimulating the local economy through skills training, business development and trade.
- ii. The project intends to higher services of a firm/organization to facilitate setting up of a 'Government Innovation Lab' (GIL) in Balochistan to support the provincial government towards the achievement of SDGs in Balochistan. According to UNDP's latest report, Growing Government Innovation Labs: an insider's guide Innovation Labs are spaces where government and other organizations experiment with new ways of tackling old problems. They bring together government officials with wider teams of designers, researchers, developers, youth and end-users. Labs are not about doing innovation for the sake of innovation. Instead, they determine bottlenecks and opportunities that are used to test new services and approaches to produce better impact. Innovation Labs are collaborative, multidisciplinary and user-led that employ agile methodologies.
- iii. Through the combined efforts of UNDP, the government and the facilitating organization, the inception of this lab will help improve public services through piloting innovative solutions, mobilize youth to be a part of piloting new ideas and sowing seeds for innovative thinking to find solutions to Balochistan's development challenges.
- iv. In recent years, the quest for finding innovative solutions to development problems specially use of information and communication technologies has become increasingly widespread and has a crucial impact on governments looking to move from rigid, rule-based and hierarchical models of administration to more people-oriented, transparent and accountable public services. Globally, innovation has made a huge difference in addressing urgent and pressing development challenges. Around the world we are now witnessing the emergence of a variety of new innovations and data alliances that are leading to a whole new way for governments to inform public service delivery with evidence, and forge new partnerships with academia, the private sector, think tanks and citizens.

- v.
