Date: February 21, 2019

Question #1: About the trip to the duty station, is it necessary to include these expenses in the budget or calculated when the trip is needed?

Answer to Question #1: The consultancy is home-based so no trip to duty station is expected. If a mission is required, the consultant will be notified and it will be paid separately (no need to include in proposal). Consultant should not undertake any mission without prior approval from UNDP.
