LOCAL INDIVIDUAL CONSULTANT: MULTILATERAL ENVIRONMENTAL AGREEMENT (MEA) CONSULTANT FOR DEVELOPMENT AND DELIVERY OF TRAINING PROGRAMMES

1. Question

Reference is made to the subject at caption and the following clarification is requested on the Terms of Reference:

Page 10 Key Tasks - Item 4 states:

"...developing online learning content....; including the possible development of an open online course" however:

"A functional prototype of the online learning modules for review and validation"

Please clarify whether the TOR requires the development of content for an online course or a functional prototype of an online course

1. Answer

The task of developing the online content feeds into the deliverable of a functional prototype. To clarify, functional prototype does not mean that the candidate will have to develop software for the consultancy, but rather existing online learning platform(s) will be used for this deliverable. So, to meet this deliverable, the developed content will be uploaded onto the selected platform to beta test for compatibility, user-friendliness etc. but may not yet "go live" i.e. be accessible to external users.
