BACKGROUND

In 2013, UNDP in partnership with the African Development Bank agreed on a joint African initiative aimed at strengthening the integration of Health (HIV) and gender issues in environmental and social assessments for large capital projects. This demand driven initiative is now in 14 African countries with varying levels of implementation in line with unique country contexts. The correlation between the execution of large capital projects and increased health vulnerabilities especially HIV among women and girls in project receiving communities, and mostly male construction workers prompted the commencement of this initiative. Large capital projects are defined as multi-million dollar infrastructure projects such as roads, bridges, pipelines, dams, airports, harbors and port, mines, power generation or large-scale commercial agricultural schemes that requires large numbers of temporary migrant labor and whose impact may be felt beyond the physical location of the project. Most countries in Africa are currently investing hugely in infrastructure as this would 'boost economic growth, improve the social wellbeing of populations, and promote regional integration'. Environmental and Social Impact Assessment (EIA) is a unique tool for predicting the impact of large capital projects and serve also as a basis for developing plans to mitigate undesirable effects of these projects. It is thus imperative that as Africa begins to reap the gains of modernization, the health (HIV), and gender components of environmental and social assessments are strengthened to prevent the potential devastating effects of these investments on communities. In Ghana, the idea for the project was mooted by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in 2012 after a regional technical meeting in Tunis. Actual steps towards implementation of the project started in November 2014, when UNDP held national consultations with 15 key stakeholders to establish the relevance or otherwise of such a project in Ghana. A cross section of stakeholders from government agencies, ministries, CSOs and development partners were consulted. Discussions with these stakeholders (EPA, the ministries of health, lands and natural resources, gender and social protection, roads and highways and environment) revealed the gaps inherent in the current system of environmental and social assessment and how HIV and other health issues could be better integrated. As a follow up to the very successful national stakeholder consultations, a broader advocacy meeting involving a larger number of stakeholders was organized in February 2015. This meeting created a platform for all stakeholders in the EIA process to deliberate on the connections between the execution of large capital projects and health, HIV and gender vulnerability. Using the Environmental Assessment Barometer for Africa, key gaps in the current EA system were further shown and an action plan hinged on eight key areas developed to address the noted gaps.

In order to assist the requesting unit in the comparison of financial proposals, the financial proposal will include a breakdown of this lump sum amount (including travel, per diems, number of anticipated working days).

Travel:

All envisaged travel costs must be included in the financial proposal. This includes all travel to join duty station/repatriation travel. In general, UNDP should not accept travel costs exceeding those of an economy class ticket. Should the IC wish to travel on a higher class he/she should do so using their own resources.

In the case of unforeseeable travel, payment of travel costs including tickets, lodging and terminal expenses should be agreed upon, between the respective business unit and Individual Consultant, prior to travel and will be reimbursed.

A. Project Title: Strengthening the integration of HIV and health issues in environmental and social assessments in Ghana

B. Background

In 2013, UNDP in partnership with the African Development Bank agreed on a joint African initiative aimed at strengthening the integration of Health (HIV) and gender issues in environmental and social assessments for large capital projects. This demand driven initiative is now in 14 African countries with varying levels of implementation in line with unique country contexts. The correlation between the execution of large capital projects and increased health vulnerabilities especially HIV among women and girls in project receiving communities, and mostly male construction workers prompted the commencement of this initiative.

Large capital projects are defined as multi-million dollar infrastructure projects such as roads, bridges, pipelines, dams, airports, harbors and port, mines, power generation or large-scale commercial agricultural schemes that requires large numbers of temporary migrant labor and whose impact may be felt beyond the physical location of the project. Most countries in Africa are currently investing hugely in infrastructure as this would 'boost economic growth, improve the social wellbeing of populations, and promote regional integration'. Environmental and Social Impact Assessment (EIA) is a unique tool for predicting the impact of large capital projects and serve also as a basis for developing plans to mitigate undesirable effects of these projects. It is thus imperative that as Africa begins to reap the gains of modernization, the health (HIV), and gender components of environmental and social assessments are strengthened to prevent the potential devastating effects of these investments on communities.

In Ghana, the idea for the project was mooted by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in 2012 after a regional technical meeting in Tunis. Actual steps towards implementation of the project started in November 2014, when UNDP held national consultations with 15 key stakeholders to establish the relevance or otherwise of such a project in Ghana. A cross section of stakeholders from government agencies, ministries, CSOs and development partners were consulted. Discussions with these stakeholders (EPA, the ministries of health, lands and natural resources, gender and social protection, roads and highways and environment) revealed the gaps inherent in the current system of environmental and social assessment and how HIV and other health issues could be better integrated. As a follow up to the very successful national stakeholder consultations, a broader advocacy meeting involving a larger number of stakeholders was organized in February 2015. This meeting created a platform for all stakeholders in the EIA process to deliberate on the connections between the execution of large capital projects and health, HIV and gender vulnerability. Using the Environmental Assessment Barometer for Africa, key gaps in the current EA system were further shown and an action plan hinged on eight key areas developed to address the noted gaps.

C. Prioritized actions for 2015

Based on discussions with EPA, 2 key action points have been selected for 2015 namely-

- Development of the certification guidelines for ESA consultants and,
- Development of a HIV and health module for selected tertiary institutions teaching the next crop of environmentalists.

Certification of ESA consultants is deemed crucial to ensure that anyone who conducts environmental and social assessments has the basic required skills to adequately integrate HIV and health issues in their assessments. Further, the development of HIV and health modules in tertiary institutions would ensure that environmentalists are exposed to these concepts early on in their training. A work plan to guide the implementation of these activities has also been subsequently developed.

D. Scope of work for the consultant

It is expected that the consultant would lead the process of developing the guidelines for the certification process for ESA consultants based on the already developed work plan.

Specifically, the consultant would have to:

- Conduct a desk based review of two countries who have developed consultant certification system
- Conduct a quick scan of the Ghana situation to help provide background data for the formulation of the certification guideline using primary and secondary data collection methods
- Design a draft certification guideline for Ghana
- Present the draft certification process for validation by expert stakeholders
- Finalize the draft guidelines based on recommendations by expert stakeholders
- Submit final guidelines to EPA

E. Expected outputs and Deliverables

- A literature review and situational analysis report within 1 week of contract signing
- A draft certification guideline for validation by expert stakeholders (EPA, IAIA etc) within 2 weeks of contract signing

E. Institutional Arrangement

The consultant's work would be supervised by the program specialist HIV, health and development in UNDP Ghana. The consultant would liaise with EPA and IAIA in the course of the assignment. A draft certification guideline prepared by the consultant would also be presented to the expert stakeholders for validation during the course of duty

F. Duration

The consultancy is for 10 working days. Tentative start and end date is 21st September 2015 and 2nd October, 2015.

G. Qualifications

- Advanced university degree (masters or above) in environmental science, social science or any relevant field
- At least 7 years of progressive professional experience in the field of environmental and social impact assessments
- Demonstrable understanding of the linkages between health including HIV, gender and large capital projects
- Strong understanding of the environmental regulatory regime in Ghana
- Demonstrable experience in research, analysis and writing reports
- Ability to manage time effectively and adhere to deadlines

H. Scope of price proposal and payment schedule

Schedule of payment is as follows:

Deliverable/Action	Payment
Signing of contract	20%
Completion of literature review and draft certification guideline	20%
Submission of a draft certification guideline	60%

Payments are all inclusive, this implies that all costs (professional fees, travel costs, communications, etc.) that could possibly be incurred by the contractor are factored into the final amounts submitted in the proposal.

The Individual contractor shall comply with all laws, ordinances, rules and regulations bearing upon the performance of his or her obligations under the Contract. In the performance of the Contract the Individual contractor shall comply with the standards of conduct set in the Secretary General’s Bulletin ST/SGB/2002/9 of 18 June 2002, entitled “Regulations Governing the Status, Basic Rights and Duties of Officials other than Secretariat Officials, and Expert on Mission”. The Individual contractor acknowledges and agrees that, with respect to any obligations under the Contract that the Individual contractor must perform in or for any areas in which UNDP is engaged in, preparing to engage in, or disengaging from any peacekeeping, humanitarian or similar operations, any delay or failure to perform such obligations arising from or relating to harsh conditions within such areas or to any incidents of civil unrest occurring in such areas shall not, in and of itself, constitute force majeure under the Contract

13. TERMINATION: Either party may terminate the Contract, in whole or in part, upon giving written notice to the other party. The period of notice shall be five (5) days in the case of contracts for a total period of less than two (2) months and fourteen (14) days in the case of contracts for a longer period. The initiation of conciliation or arbitral proceedings, as provided below, shall not be deemed to be a “cause” for or otherwise to be in itself a termination of the Contract. UNDP may, without prejudice to any other right or remedy available to it, terminate the Contract forthwith in the event that: (a) the Individual contractor is adjudged bankrupt, or is liquidated, or becomes insolvent, applies for moratorium or stay on any payment or repayment obligations, or applies to be declared insolvent; (b) the Individual contractor is granted a moratorium or a stay or is declared insolvent; (c) the Individual contractor makes an assignment for the benefit of one or more of his or her creditors; (d) a Receiver is appointed on account of the insolvency of the Individual contractor; (e) the Individual contractor offers a settlement in lieu of bankruptcy or receivership; or (f) UNDP reasonably determines that the Individual contractor has become subject to a materially adverse change in financial condition that threatens to endanger or otherwise substantially affect the ability of the Individual contractor to perform any of the obligations under the Contract.

In the event of any termination of the Contract, upon receipt of notice of termination by UNDP, the Individual contractor shall, except as may be directed by UNDP in the notice of termination or otherwise in writing: (a) take immediate steps to bring the performance of any obligations under the Contract to a close in a prompt and orderly manner, and in doing so, reduce expenses to a minimum; (b) refrain from undertaking any further or additional commitments under the Contract as of and following the date of receipt of such notice; (c) deliver all completed or partially completed plans, drawings, information and other property that, if the Contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to UNDP thereunder; (d) complete performance of the services not terminated; and (e) take any other action that may be necessary, or that UNDP may direct in writing, for the protection and preservation of any property, whether tangible or intangible, related to the Contract that is in the possession of the Individual contractor and in which UNDP has or may be reasonably expected to acquire an interest.

In the event of any termination of the Contract, UNDP shall only be liable to pay the Individual contractor compensation on a pro rata basis for no more than the actual amount of work performed to the satisfaction of UNDP in accordance with the requirements of the Contract. Additional costs incurred by UNDP as a result of termination of the Contract by the Individual contractor may be withheld from any amount otherwise due to the Individual contractor by UNDP.

14. NON-EXCLUSIVITY: UNDP shall have no obligation respecting, and no limitations on, its right to obtain goods of the same kind, quality and quantity, or to obtain any services of the kind described in the Contract, from any other source at any time.

15. TAXATION: Article II, section 7, of the Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations provides, inter alia, that the United Nations, including its subsidiary organs, is exempt from all direct taxes, except charges for public utility services, and is exempt from customs restrictions, duties and charges of a similar nature in respect of articles imported or exported for its official use. In the event any governmental authority refuses to recognize the exemptions of the United Nations from such taxes, restrictions, duties or charges, the Individual contractor shall immediately consult with UNDP to determine a mutually acceptable procedure. UNDP shall have no liability for taxes, duties or other similar charges payable by the Individual contractor in respect of any amounts paid to the Individual contractor under this Contract, and the Individual contractor acknowledges that UNDP will not issue any statements of earnings to the Individual contractor in respect of any such payments.

16. AUDITS AND INVESTIGATIONS: Each invoice paid by UNDP shall be subject to a post-payment audit by auditors, whether internal or external, of UNDP or by other authorized and qualified agents of UNDP. The Individual contractor acknowledges and agrees that UNDP may conduct investigations relating to any aspect of the Contract or the award thereof, and the obligations performed thereunder.

The Individual contractor shall provide full and timely cooperation with any post-payment audits or investigations hereunder. Such cooperation shall include, but shall not be limited to, the Individual contractor's obligation to make available any relevant documentation and information for the purposes of a post-payment audit or an investigation at reasonable times and on reasonable conditions. The Individual contractor shall require his or her employees, subcontractors and agents, if any, including, but not limited to, the Individual contractor's attorneys, accountants or other advisers, to reasonably cooperate with any post-payment audits or investigations carried out by UNDP hereunder.

If the findings or circumstances of a post-payment audit or investigation so warrant, UNDP may, in its sole discretion, take any measures that may be appropriate or necessary, including, but not limited to, suspension of the Contract, with no liability whatsoever to UNDP.

The Individual contractor shall refund to UNDP any amounts shown by a post-payment audit or investigation to have been paid by UNDP other than in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Contract. Such amount may be deducted by UNDP from any payment due to the Individual contractor under the Contract.

The right of UNDP to conduct a post-payment audit or an investigation and the Individual contractor's obligation to comply with such shall not lapse upon expiration or prior termination of the Contract.

17. SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES:

AMICABLE SETTLEMENT: UNDP and the Individual contractor shall use their best efforts to amicably settle any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of the Contract or the breach, termination or invalidity thereof. Where the parties wish to seek such an amicable settlement through conciliation, the conciliation shall take place in accordance with the Conciliation Rules then obtaining of the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law ("UNCITRAL"), or according to such other procedure as may be agreed between the parties in writing.

ARBITRATION: Any dispute, controversy or claim between the parties arising out of the Contract, or the breach, termination, or invalidity thereof, unless settled amicably, as provided above, shall be referred by either of the parties to arbitration in accordance with the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules then obtaining. The decisions of the arbitral tribunal shall be based on general principles of international commercial law. For all evidentiary questions, the arbitral tribunal shall be guided by the Supplementary Rules Governing the Presentation and Reception of Evidence in International Commercial Arbitration of the International Bar Association, 28 May 1983 edition. The arbitral tribunal shall be empowered to order the return or destruction of goods or any property, whether tangible or intangible, or of any confidential information provided under the Contract, order the termination of the Contract, or order that any other protective measures be taken with respect to the goods, services or any other property, whether tangible or intangible, or of any confidential information provided under the Contract, as appropriate, all in accordance with the authority of the arbitral tribunal pursuant to Article 26 ("Interim Measures of Protection") and Article 32 ("Form and Effect of the Award") of the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules. The arbitral tribunal shall have no authority to award punitive damages. In addition, unless otherwise expressly provided in the Contract, the arbitral tribunal shall have no authority to award interest in excess of the London Inter-Bank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") then prevailing, and any such interest shall be simple interest only. The parties shall be bound by any arbitration award rendered as a result of such arbitration as the final adjudication of any such dispute, controversy or claim.

18. LIMITATION ON ACTIONS: Except with respect to any indemnification obligations in Article 9, above, or as are otherwise set forth in the Contract, any arbitral proceedings in accordance with Article 17, above, arising out of the Contract must be commenced within three (3) years after the cause of action has accrued.

The Parties further acknowledge and agree that, for these purposes, a cause of action shall accrue when the breach actually occurs, or, in the case of latent defects, when the injured Party knew or should have known all of the essential elements of the cause of action, or in the case of a breach of warranty, when tender of delivery is made, except that, if a warranty extends to future performance of the goods or any process or system and the discovery of the breach consequently must await the time when such goods or other process or system is ready to perform in accordance with the requirements of the Contract, the cause of action accrues when such time of future performance actually begins,

19. PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES: Nothing in or relating to the Contract shall be deemed a waiver, express or implied, of any of the privileges and immunities of the United Nations, including its subsidiary organs.
