TERMS OF REFERENCE: UNDP INDONESIA RETREAT 2016

1.0 BACKGROUND

UNDP is the UN's global development network, an organization advocating for change and connecting countries to knowledge, experience and resources to help people build a better life. We are on the ground in 166 countries, working with them on their own solutions to global and national development challenges.

In Indonesia, UNDP works to advance human development; fight poverty and inequality; consolidate democratic governance at both national and local levels; support crisis prevention and recovery; and promote environmentally smart development. UNDP Indonesia country office is fully engaged to accelerate implementation of SDG in Indonesia.

UNDP Indonesia is about to carry out its annual retreat for the entire country office. It is tentatively scheduled for January 2016 in Bandung for 2 days 1 night involving approximately 90 staff of UNDP. It is envisaged that the above overall theme of the retreat would consist of three sequential exercises that will discuss and internalize with all staff the following specific themes:

- A. Country Office Vision, Mission and Strategy to accelerate SDG Implementation in Indonesia
- B. The Office's efficiency and effectiveness, and
- C. Staff motivation and Leadership skills.

This term of reference is outlining the three exercises on UNDP Indonesia's Vision, Mission and Strategy, The Office's efficiency and effectiveness, and the staff motivation and leadership skills. In order to implement this exercise UNDP is seeking a qualified event organizer to conceptualize the retreat materials and activities, and facilitate the implementation during the retreat.

2.0 OBJECTIVE

Raising Awareness on Country Office Vision, Mission and Strategy to Build More Effective and Efficient Organization to Accelerate Implementation of SDG in Indonesia

The purpose of the facilitated session on UNDP's "Vision, Mission and Strategy" is to take the staff through the experience of defining the vision of the organization, its mission and strategy. In the Organization's term this is translated into what UNDP wants to achieve in 2-3 years time and, how does it get there. For the staff, the exercise should bring personal, as well as collective experiences as members of work or functional teams in defining the notion of "Who We Are & How Do We Contribute to Indonesia through UNDP".

The session shall be designed and delivered in a fun and meaningful way, and should not come to the staff as "just another strategic planning process". At the end of the session both the organization and the staff should bring back with them a clear direction of where UNDP go and how to get there and how this sense trickles down to the different work/functional teams, and further to individual staff. In order to make the experience both effective and inclusive, throughout the course of the facilitation it should remain focused on the organization's strategic directions and functions, but it should be presented in an easily followed and comprehended fashion for all staff.

Increasing productivity and job satisfaction through better understanding of motivation factors
UNDP-Indonesia Country Office employed approximately with various contract modalities working for several locations in Indonesia. The staff perception on the organization is positive.

Motivation is generated by a variety of factors: clarity of goals, challenges, rewards, security and enabling working environment. As a matter of principle, what motivates one person might not motivate another. Motivation is also change. What motivate someone one day might not work the next. Based on the quick assessment prior to the retreat, it is suggested that a sizable time need to be allocated to understand what motivate people to work at UNDP, how that can be maintained and enhanced, and how that can be transformed into more productivity and job satisfaction.

The specific objectives are:

- To identify The offices vision, mission and strategy
- To identify individual and team motivation factors
- To identify individual and work/functional unit's vision and mission in relation to point 1. This translates to the staff as "who we are and how do er contribute to the vision and mission of UNDP
- To understand how motivation factors works to increase productivity and job satisfaction
- To learn new skills to build and maintain high motivation for individual and team
- To understand how synergy, complementarily, interaction and client service leads to more effective and efficient contributions towards achieving the personal, unit's and the offices mission and mission.
- To learn new skills to manage synergy, complementarily, interaction and cline service orientation.

3.0 RESULTS/DELIVERABLES

The consultant/facilitator will produce:

1. Game plan, which include objectives, methodology, activities, duration and resources need for the whole vision mission and managing effectiveness s and efficiency sessions as well as the motivation session;
2. Hand out, both take-away information and rewards for achievement;
3. Actual implementation of the game plan.

By the end of the session, participants will be able:

1. To identify the vision and mission of the office, their respective units and their own
2. To identify own and team motivation factors;
3. To apply different skills to improve synergy, complementarily, interaction and cline service orientation;
4. To apply different skills to motivate oneself and other team members;
5. To own post-retreat action plan to boost efficiency and effectives in their work and to boost productivity and job satisfaction.
