Description of Requirements

Context of the Requirement	The EU signed an Association Agreement (AA) with Georgia in June 2014. This aims to deepen political and economic relations between the parties and to gradually integrate Georgia into the EU's internal market. Under Article 333 of the Association Agreement (Cooperation between the Parties in the field of agriculture and rural development), there is provision for 'facilitating the mutual understanding of agricultural and rural development policies'. UNDP Georgia implements the project "Support to Rural Development in Georgia" under ENPARD III. The project is part of the EU supported nationwide programme "European Neighbourhood Programme for Agriculture and Rural Development" (ENPARD) phase III and will contribute to the main purpose of ENPARD III, which is to promote inclusive and sustainable growth and development, creating employment and livelihoods for the poor and excluded, and to the achievement of results related to improvement of institutional capacities for the implementation of the Rural Development Strategy; improvement of rural economic diversification, employment and services; and Improvement of environment, sustainable management of natural resources and climate action. To assist in the promotion of activities related to Rural Development, EU has launched rural development actions under ENPARD in 8 municipalities: Akhalkalaki, Borjomi, Dedoplistskaro, Kazbegi, Keda, Khulo, Lagodekhi and Tetrtskaro. Rural Non-farm Economy Needs Surveys should reveal key constraints and opportunities in the area of economic diversification per each eight-target municipality. Key subjects of the surveys are needs and constraints to: (1) establish non-farm enterprises; and (2) to expand existing non-farm enterprises. Surveys should be conducted in parallel with Municipal Assessment Reports (MAR), implemented by the UNDP contractor. The aim of MARs is to study and analyze main challenges and opportunities of economic diversification in target municipalities and identify rural options and criteria for direct support mechanisms targeting improved rural economic diversification, employment, and services. MARs will employ desk research, focus groups and in-depth interviews as key means of the study component. Surveys should complement, inform, and enrich MARs to successfully accomplish its objectives.

Rural Non-Farm Economy Needs Survey

1. Background

Rural development is a process that delivers improvements in the quality of life and economic well-being of people living in relatively isolated and sparsely populated rural areas. Rural development, traditionally, has focused on the exploitation of land-intensive natural resources, such as agriculture and forestry. However, changes in global production networks, increased urbanization and dynamic links between rural and urban environments have changed the character of rural areas. Increasingly tourism, niche products and recreation have replaced resource extraction and agriculture as dominant economic factors.

The need for rural communities to approach development from a wider perspective has created more focus on a broad range of development goals rather than merely creating incentives for agricultural or resource-based businesses. Education, entrepreneurship, physical and social infrastructure, biodiversity protection and enhancement, climate change adaptation and mitigation all play an important role in developing rural regions. Rural development is also characterized by its emphasis on locally produced economic development strategies.

The EU signed an Association Agreement (AA) with Georgia in June 2014. This aims to deepen political and economic relations between the parties and to gradually integrate Georgia into the EU's internal market. This entails, as one element, creating a Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Area (DCFTA) between the EU and Georgia. Under Article 333 of the Association Agreement (Cooperation between the Parties in the field of agriculture and rural development), there is provision for 'facilitating the mutual understanding of agricultural and rural development policies'. This was a trigger for the formulation of a Rural Development Strategy for Georgia which will in turn yield specification of measures which will benefit from funding under the European Neighborhood Programme for Agriculture and Rural Development (ENPARD).

Rural development has an important role to play in the sustainable development of Georgia. The need for rural communities to approach development from a wider perspective has created more focus on a broad range of development goals rather than merely creating incentive for agriculture development. The goal of the Rural Development Strategy for Georgia 2017-2020 is to support Georgia's sustainable economic development through enhanced socio-economic activities in rural areas and improved living condition of rural population. The strategy provides the country's vision related to the key areas of rural development – growth and diversification of local economies, improvement of social and public services, increase of employment and sustainable use of national resources.

UNDP Georgia implements the project "Support to Rural Development in Georgia" under ENPARD III. The project is part of the EU supported nation-wide programme "European Neighbourhood Programme for Agriculture and Rural Development" (ENPARD) phase III and will contribute to the main purpose of ENPARD III, which is to promote inclusive and sustainable growth and development, creating employment and livelihoods for the poor and excluded, and to the achievement of results related to improvement of institutional capacities for the implementation of the Rural Development Strategy; improvement of rural economic diversification, employment and services; and Improvement of environment, sustainable management of natural resources and climate action.

To assist in the promotion of activities related to Rural Development, EU has launched rural development actions under ENPARD in 8 municipalities: Akhalkalaki, Borjomi, Dedoplistskaro, Kazbegi, Keda, Khulo, Lagodekhi and Tetrtskaro. Rural Non-Farm Economy Needs Surveys should reveal key constraints and opportunities in the area of economic diversification per each eight-target municipality. Key subjects of the surveys are needs and constraints to: (1) establish non-farm enterprises; and (2) to expand existing non-farm enterprises. Surveys should be conducted in parallel with Municipal Assessment Reports (MAR), implemented by the UNDP contractor. The aim of MARs is to study and analyze main challenges and opportunities of economic diversification in target municipalities and identify options and criteria for direct support mechanisms targeting improved rural economic diversification, employment, and services. MARs will employ desk research, focus groups and in-depth interviews as key means of the study component. Surveys should complement, inform, and enrich MARs to successfully accomplish its objectives.

For the purposes of this RFP, direct support mechanisms are groups of specific interrelated interventions (actions) aimed at long-term impact on improved local rural economic diversification, employment and services in terms of development for the community, a sector, municipality, etc. Direct support mechanisms will specify where, who, why, what, when and how interventions need to be undertaken. It will address gender equality, capacity development, partnerships, resource availability and other cross-cutting issues relevant to development in the area of work and articulate the necessary linkages and/or synergies. Direct support mechanisms can also generate or drive other projects and gather actors from different horizons to work towards common objectives.

2. Scope of work

The selected organization is expected to conduct two quantitative surveys on rural non-farm economy needs in eight target municipalities which are supported by the ENPARD pilot projects: Akhalkalaki, Borjomi, Dedoplistskaro, Kazbegi, Keda, Khulo, Lagodekhi and Tetrtskaro.

The selected organization must conduct quantitative surveys and provide outputs to and cooperate with the UNDP contractor responsible for Municipal Assessment Reports (MAR) for data analysis. The selected organization will receive two draft structured questionnaires (with approximate 150 variables in each) and related instruments from the UNDP.

The Contractor will be expected to provide professional services through the following main activities for each survey:

1. Design the work plan for conducting quantitative survey (merged for both surveys);
2. Pilot and develop final versions of survey instruments;
3. Develop final sampling models;
4. Conduct the training of the interviewers;
5. Prepare and conduct field work;
6. Monitor and control field work;
7. Conduct logical control of the questionnaire and coding;
8. Develop the database in SPSS, clean, weight and process the data;
9. Prepare technical report of the survey;
10. Conduct data analysis (descriptive statistics).

A - Survey of: populations in eight target municipalities

1. Prepare the work plan for conducting quantitative survey (merged for both surveys) to be agreed with the UNDP;
2. Develop the sampling model;
3. Pilot questionnaires (at least 80 for populations survey (10 per municipality) and 40 for enterprises survey (5 per municipality) in total);
4. Develop final versions of the survey instruments (questionnaires, explanatory notecard, etc.) that are clear, easy to be understood by the respondents and do not have linguistic or any other errors. The final versions of the questionnaires shall be made available to UNDP in English, Georgian and languages of national minorities (at least in Russian). The questionnaires shall be adjusted for use in SPSS software.
5. Design questionnaires in "Adobe InDesign" software;
6. Conduct the training of the interviewers. Training should have two components: (1) training in interconnection of the content of the questionnaires, its blocks, and questions. Also, training in mechanism of interviewing and requirements (including ethical); (2) practical training in interviewing and assessing the competencies of the interviewers based on quality interviewing needs;
7. Conduct and monitor field work as defined by the work plan. In cases of non-response, contractor should report to the UNDP the reasons and consult on how to replace the respondents. Monitoring should not only be checking whether interview has been conducted, but also repeating interviews with the respondents (in sample of the populations survey: at least 30%+1 interviews (by random selection) verified that interviews have been conducted and from that (by random selection) at least 301 repeated interviews conducted; in sample of the enterprises survey sample - at least 30%+1 interviews (by random selection) verified that interviews have been conducted and from that (by random selection) at least 10% repeated interviews conducted). Monitoring should be conducted in each target municipality.
8. Perform logical control of the questionnaires and coding conducted in parallel of the field work. In case of substantial errors are revealed by the logical control, the contractor should report to the UNDP and ensure the replacement of the questionnaire or the interviewer (if needed).
9. Develop the database in SPSS, clean, weight and process the data. Data cleaning should be conducted based on questionnaires. In case errors are made by the data entry specialist, it should be corrected according to the questionnaire. In case the interviewer makes the error, the importance of the error should be assessed, along with the reasons for that and decision should be made about the annulment of the questionnaire. The final SPSS database should be provided to the UNDP. The methodology for data cleaning, weighting and processing shall be described by the applicant in the methodology part of this RfP.
10. Prepare technical report. Technical report should contain information about (but not limited to) analysis of the field work process, timeline and in case of errors - the responding actions conducted and assessment of the impact of such errors. Also, the report should contain information about: the number of people excluded from the sample and the reasons for such exclusion; municipal distribution of interviewers and the number of interviews conducted by each interviewer; refusal and non-response rates, and typical reasons for both forms of non-participation; a description of quality control measures implemented, and the results of interview verification procedures;
11. Conduct data analysis (descriptive statistics).
