Annex II

TERMS OF REFERENCE (ToRs)

Ministry of Finance
International Economic Cooperation Coordination Division (IECCD)
Effective Development Financing and Coordination (EDFC) project
Cost- Benefit Analysis Training

1. Background

The Effective Development Financing and Coordination (EDFC) project, led by the Ministry of Finance’s (MoF) International Economic Cooperation Coordination Division (IECCD) is supporting the Government of Nepal (GoN) through capacity development initiatives to strengthen approaches to mobilizing, coordinating, and effectively managing international development cooperation. Global principles and commitments on aid effectiveness include action at the country level to align aid with national priorities, ensure aid produces intended results, and strengthen mutual accountability. Specific training programs are tailored to the needs of concerned GoN officials and other target groups, to improve overall national capacity to manage external resources in a more efficient way, in support of the SDGs and Nepal’s national development priorities.

Much of Nepal’s portfolio of foreign aid is delivered through projects, many of which are national pride projects and other large projects. The extent to which these projects are effectively managed, across the project cycle, as well as with particular attention to Cost-Benefit Analysis practices, is of significant consequence in terms of achieving results and improving overall aid effectiveness. Yet there are persistent gaps in the practices of Cost-Benefit Analysis, causing delays in implementation, underutilization of available foreign aid resources, and eroding the relationship between GoN and its international Development Partners (DPs). Bottlenecks in the efficient and effective delivery of committed aid funding also diminishes the GoN’s capacity to absorb additional aid to fund much-needed programs and investments.

In this connection, the EDFC project is planning to organize a training program on project Cost- Benefit Analysis. The training program will be designed for prospective Government officials to be involved into project design and implementation phases at sub-national levels.
2. Objectives

The training program will have two components: one on Foreign Aid for Development and the other on Project Development and Cost-Benefit Analysis.

The main objectives of the component on Foreign Aid for Development includes:

a) Improve participants’ understanding of the concept, history and modalities of foreign aid of Nepal
b) Strengthen participants’ understanding of GoN systems and procedures for identifying the need for development projects including the project design.
c) Provide a constructive forum for participants to discuss on problem identification while choosing best development projects to be funded through foreign aid

The main objectives of the component on Project Development and Cost-Benefit Analysis include:

a) Improve participants’ understanding of the concepts and techniques of project development and designing in the context of large foreign-aid funded projects in Nepal
b) Improve participants’ understanding of good practices of Cost-Benefit Analysis in the context of large foreign-aid funded projects
c) Strengthen knowledge of the participants about different tools and techniques of Cost-Benefit analysis which directly support design, negotiation and implementation of transformative development projects.
d) Strengthen participants’ understanding of Nepal’s relevant project Cost-Benefit Analysis rules of both GoN and DPs
e) Provide a constructive forum for participants to identify and propose solutions to persistent challenges in Cost-Benefit Analysis of foreign-aid funded projects in Nepal

Together, these two components will contribute to achieving the overarching objective of the training program: to improve the efficiency and effectiveness with which large foreign-aid funded projects are delivered in Nepal by strengthening national capacity in project development, design, negotiation through enhanced knowledge on Cost-Benefit analysis of development project.

3. Methodology and Scope of Work

The selected firm will have primary responsibility for designing and facilitating the training programs. Participants will contribute to the training delivery by sharing their expectations and requests for skill-building on particular topics (the training provider may wish to survey the participants in advance of finalizing the agenda). MoF/IECCD and other relevant GoN officials may also act as resource persons on relevant GoN systems and regulations; such appropriate resource persons may be recommended by MoF/IECCD. To ensure effective learning outcomes, a combination of different methodologies should be employed, such as case studies, group discussions, and exercises. Sessions should be engaging and interactive, with participants encouraged to actively participate in discussions, share their views and experiences, and contribute to a meaningful learning process.

Finalization of the training design will be done in close coordination with MoF/EDFC, to ensure it is tailored to the needs of participants and overall objectives. This will include working with designated MoF/IECCD and other GoN officials to collect relevant government regulations, guidelines and procedures so the training content reflects accurate and real-world scenarios.

For the component on Foreign Aid for Development, the training should include the following content:

a) Good practices of project development and design in the context of aid-funded projects in Nepal, specific to each stage of the project development cycle. This will answer the following questions:
   o How foreign aid support development efforts of a developing countries like Nepal?
   o How foreign aided projects are developed and chosen for the socio economic transformation of the country?

b) Review and discussion of relevant GoN systems and procedures related to the project management cycle, such as project development, design and selection, etc.
   o Compliance with GoN systems for aid-funded projects that have GoN counterpart funding

c) Known bottlenecks and challenges related to project development and design and how they can be overcome

d) Discussion of how the transition to federal Nepal will impact on project development and design processes

For the component on Project Development and Cost-Benefit Analysis, the training should include the following content:

a) Relevance of Cost-Benefit Analysis (CBA) for foreign aided development project.

b) The tools, techniques and requirement to conduct a CBA for development projects.

c) Interpret and use CBA results to inform the project design and evaluation process. The Discussion topics must include:
   o Target setting
   o Project Design
   o Logical framework
   o Development Cooperation Policy
   o Risk and sensitivity analysis
d) Review and discussion of relevant GoN financial rules and regulations, with reference to CBA.

e) Overview and discussion of project investment decision making criteria:
   - Internal Rate of Return (IRR)
   - Net Present value (NPV)
   - Cost-Benefit Ration (C/B Ratio)
   - Other tools of CBA

f) Discussion on designing project development using CBA in the context of province and local levels under new International Development Cooperation Policy 2019.

A maximum of 50% of the total training time should be devoted to theoretical approaches. The remainder should be dedicated to the specific systems/procedures in the Nepal context of large foreign-aid funded projects, facilitating exchanges of experience between participants, discussing practical challenges and solutions, leading the participants in exercises, and extracting concrete recommendations to improve the effectiveness of implementation of foreign-aid funded projects. A summary of the participants’ individual commitments should be provided to MoF/EDFC following the training programs, together with results of a satisfaction and learning outcome survey.

4. Duration and Timeframe

The proposed duration of the training program is two full days; with one day focusing on Foreign Aid for Development, theoretical aspect of CBA and project cycle management and one day on practical aspect of Project Development and Cost-Benefit Analysis. All three programs will be delivered. This programs will be delivered during February-March 2020 (exact dates to be determined). The training program will be residential.

Notes for financial plan:

- As the EDFC project will manage the cost of transportation and accommodation for the Proposer team, those costs should not be included in the Proposer's financial proposal.
- Separate DSA cannot be claimed because it will be covered under the Engaged persons' remuneration/fee.
- Administrative and other associated costs, if any, should be built into the above headings proportionately.
- Training material should include good quality pen, 16 GB pen-drive, note book/diary and handouts.
- Proposal will be disqualified if it does not follow the above price schedule format.

Acceptance of the proposed schedule of work and the timelines is a must and no deviation in the timeline is allowed.
Annex VI

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS IN EXECUTION OF THE TASK

1. Force Majeure
   Without prejudice to their rights the EDFC and the party shall not be held responsible nor suffer any financial loss should the performance of the party be delayed or prevented by an event of Force Majeure, which shall include, but not limited to strikes, riots, civil commotion, fire accident or any other incident beyond the control of either party hereto which neither party was aware of or could have foreseen at the time of the signing of this contract. In event of an occurrence of the Force Majeure, either party shall notify the other of the event and during such event the rights and obligations of either party shall automatically be suspended.

2. Arbitration
   Any dispute arising out of or in connection with this task not settled by mutual understanding shall be submitted to arbitration to three arbitrators. Each party shall appoint an arbitrator and the two arbitrators thus appointed shall agree on the third one. The arbitrators shall rule on the costs which may be divided between the parties. The decision rendered in the arbitration shall constitute final adjudication of the dispute.

3. Termination
   Either party may terminate this contract at any time by giving the other party fourteen (14) days’ notice in writing of the intention to do so. In the event of such termination, the party shall be compensated for the actual amount of work performed, upon valid justification for termination, by EDFC on a pro rata basis.

4. Law Applicable
   This contract shall be governed by the law of Government of Nepal and project guidelines.

5. Independent Relationship
   Nothing contained in the contract shall be construed as establishing or creating between EDFC and the party relationship of master and servant or principal and agent, it being understood that the party is an independent person vis-à-vis EDFC.
6. Party’s General Responsibilities
   a. The party shall carry out work under the contract with due diligence and efficiency and in conformity with the highest standards of professional and ethical competence and integrity.
   b. The party shall be responsible for the professional and technical work carried out by him/her in the implementation of this task.

7. Workmen’s compensation and other insurance
   The party shall make his/her own arrangements regarding insurance for medical expenses and for accident, death and permanent disability for the period of the task. All costs involved will be borne by the party.

8. Source of Instruction
   The party shall neither seek nor accept instructions from any authority other than EDFC’s and UNDP’s authorized agent in connection with the work under the contract.

9. Prohibition on conflicting activities
   The party shall ensure that he/she will not directly/indirectly engage in any activity that would conflict with those of EDFC in respect of this project.

10. Officials not to benefit
   The party warrants that no UNDP or EDFC official has been or will be admitted by him/her to any direct/indirect benefit arising from this task or award thereof.

11. Assignment
   The party shall not assign, transfer, pledge or make other disposition of the task or any other parts thereof or rights, claims or obligations under this task, without prior written approval of EDFC.

12. Records, Accounts, Information and Audit
   a. The party shall maintain accurate and systematic records and accounts in respect of the work to be performed under this task.
   b. The party shall furnish, compile or make available at all times to EDFC and UNDP any records or information, oral or written, which EDFC may reasonably request for in respect of the work to be performed under this task.
   c. The party shall allow EDFC and UNDP or its authorized agents to inspect and audit such records or information upon reasonable notice.
13. Language

Unless otherwise specified in the task, English language shall be used by the party in all written communications to EDFC with respect to the services rendered and with respect to all documents procured or prepared pertaining to such services.

14. Confidential Nature of Documents

All maps, drawings, photographs, mosaics, plans, reports, recommendations, estimates, documents and all other data compiled by or received by the party under this task be the property of EDFC, shall be treated by him/her as confidential and shall be delivered only to the duly authorized officials on completion of work under this grant. Under no circumstances shall the contents of such documents or data be made known to any unauthorized person without written approval of EDFC and UNDP. 17. Taxation

The Parties shall use their best efforts to settle amicably any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of, the task or the breach, termination or invalidity thereof.
