Q.1 Authorized dealers of certain brands such as Nissan and Toyota can't repair other vehicles; are they required to quote to maintain other types of the vehicles?

A.1 No, authorized dealers can quote only for their specific brands.

Q2. Where are the Spare parts quoted will be stored?

A2. The heavily used spare parts will be stored with UNDP and the remaining spare parts will be kept with the supplier till they are requested.

Q3. The batteries to be quoted didn't specify whether for left or right side, should the suppliers quote for both sides?

A3. Yes.

Q4. The ITB requested to provide CVs of technical staff; does the suppliers must provide the same number of personnel for each city? Do the CVs have to include copy of certificates for each staff or years of experience is sufficient?

A4. Suppliers must provide CVs of each staff as requested in the ITB and copy of their certificates if there are any or list of years of experience in lieu of educational certificates.

Moreover; companies must have the number of technical staff as requested in the ITB for Sana'a but not necessary to have the same number of technical staff in other cities such as Aden, Hodeida, Mukalla, etc.
