Form: 3.1

Terms of Reference for Construction Supervision of different Level Cooperative Markets

1. BACKGROUND

Migration trends in Nepal reveal that more and more people are migrating towards urban and semi urban areas in search of better livelihoods. Rapidly growing urbanization means increased demands for fresh vegetables and fruits in urban and semi-urban areas. However, due to lack of proper market systems, fulfilling these demands are challenging. One of the key barriers is the lack of linkages between farmers and markets. In these scenarios, it is often the middlemen who act as a bridge between farms and markets. This leaves very little earning for the smallholder farmers and produce passes through many layers of middlepersons before it reaches the final consumers.

Cooperative markets can be key in the promotion of sustainable fruits and vegetable production. These objectives can be achieved through enhancing people's participation, promoting market-oriented production systems, increasing the bargaining power of the farmers, supplementing the existing service delivery system, providing credit and mobilize savings, facilitating the implementation of the government programs. This system will also provide direct links to farmers and markets. Against this background, the Cooperative Market Development Programme (CMDP) was launched by GoN and UNDP with the objective of developing the cooperative market network for fruits and vegetables in Kathmandu and regional market in Chitwan by implementing the programme in Nuwakot, Dhading, Chitwan, Lalitpur, Makawanpur and Kavrepalanchowk districts.

Programme Goals

Cooperative Market Development Programme (CMDP) is a joint initiative of Government of Nepal (GoN), Ministry of Land Management, Cooperatives and Poverty Alleviation, and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) Nepal. It aims to support the effort being made by GoN for achieving poverty reduction and food security related targets of Sustainable Development Goals by creating economic opportunities to the fruits and vegetable farmers (Goal 1) and availing quality fruits and vegetables to the consumers at the reasonable prices respectively (Goal 2). The whole idea of the programme is to create a model of cooperative market chain from farmers to the consumers and incentivize both farmers and consumers by eliminating the intermediary costs.

Programme Objectives

The overall objective of the programme is to establish and operationalize cooperative market chain of vegetables and fruits of selected six districts surrounding the Kathmandu valley. The ultimate objective of the programme is to increase farmers' income and enhance other livelihood opportunities, which in turn will contribute to the poverty reduction in Nepal. The project will achieve this outcome by establishing an efficient and sustainable fruits and vegetable collection centers/outlets starting from primary cooperatives to regional terminals in Kathmandu valley and Chitwan. The project covers 6 districts adjoining to the Kathmandu Valley and will establish 72 primary village level collection centres, 18 municipal level collection... centers, 4 district level terminals and 2 regional terminals/markets. Approximately 14,400 households of 72 fruits and vegetables cooperatives will be directly linked to this cooperative market chain and will directly benefit from this project. As the market chain will eliminate the intermediary costs of the producers, the market system will offer the benefits to both farmers and consumers by providing reasonable prices. Ultimately, project will enhance the economic opportunities as well as contribute to the nutrition security of the country.

CMDP plans to establish 72 primary level collection centres, 18 municipal level markets, 4 district level markets, 1 regional market and 4 satellite markets. These envisaged markets will be equipped with modern facilities and standards such as cold storages, enough trading and storage spaces for separate commodities, parking, ripening chamber if needed, market sheds, offices space’s, toilets, drainage, washing, sorting, garbage/waste management, boundary, electricity/digital boards and many others requirements to specify the market as per site condition and necessity. Detail survey, design and estimate for cooperative market referenced to the international cooperative markets will set a model for the further construction and replication of similar market on the other area of country in coming days.

Keeping this fact in mind and acknowledging the constitutional and legal provisions and policy direction, the Government of Nepal has brought forward the idea of cooperative market network in its budget speech for fiscal year 2017/18. It expressed that the cooperative market network would be established to ensure fair prices for the commodities produced by cooperatives. In line with government plans and programmes, the Cooperative Market Development Programme (CMDP) has been prepared as a model programme by the Government of Nepal and UNDP to ensure that fruits and vegetable farmers are fairly represented in the market system through cooperative market chain. This programme is being executed in four selected pocket areas of three rural/urban municipalities of six districts in province 3. This project has scope for replication in other parts of the country based on its experiences and lessons learnt in the future.
