Investigations Hotline

UNDP understands that certain circumstances may call for investigations into potential wrongdoings or malpractices. In such cases, UNDP provides the Investigations Hotline (Office of Audit and Investigation-OAI) for employees to report suspected fraud, abuse, or misconduct.

OAI’s role is to ensure that allegations are properly investigated and appropriate actions are taken. However, OAI’s investigations do not substitute for legal prosecution or disciplinary actions. For legal matters, employees are encouraged to seek legal counsel.

Employees should report suspected fraud, abuse, or misconduct to OAI through the Investigations Hotline. The procedure involves reporting the alleged wrongdoing, providing necessary evidence, and allowing OAI to investigate the matter.

Employees are encouraged to report any suspicions to OAI. Confidentiality is maintained throughout the investigation process. Employees can also report misconduct anonymously.

The Investigations Hotline is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Employees can contact OAI through the following methods:

- http://www.undp.org
- reportmisconduct@undp.org
- +1 877 557 8685 (USA and its territories, or call the mobile number provided)
- +1 770 776 5678 (outside the USA or Canada, or call the mobile number provided)
- +1 770 409 5008 (outside the USA or Canada, or call the mobile number provided)
- Online Referral Form

OAI’s address: United Nations Development Programme Office of Audit and Investigations, One United Nations Plaza, DC1, 4th Floor, New York, NY 10017 United States of America

T: +1 646 781 4312; F: +1 646 781 4333
UNDP Intranet Website: https://intranet.undp.org/unit/office/oai/default.aspx