	of subtotals, the subtotals shall prevail and the total shall be corrected; and c) if there is a discrepancy between words and figures, the amount in words shall prevail, unless the amount expressed in words is related to an arithmetic error, in which case the amount in figures shall prevail. 34.4 If the Bidder does not accept the correction of errors made by UNDP, its Proposal shall be rejected.

Section 5. Terms of Reference

a. Background Information and Rationale, Project Description

Pacific Financial Inclusion Programme

PFIP is a Pacific-wide programme that has helped over 2 million low-income Pacific Islanders gain access to financial services and financial education. It achieves these results by funding innovation with financial services and delivery channels, supporting policy and regulatory initiatives, and empowering consumers.

PFIP operates from the UNDP Pacific Office in Fiji and has offices in Papua New Guinea, Samoa, Vanuatu and the Solomon Islands. It is jointly administered by the UN Capital Development Fund (UNCDF) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) and receives funding from the Australian Government, the European Union and the New Zealand Government.

Background on the assignment

In a region that is sparsely populated and characterized by small and fragmented markets digital payment solutions are promising for the Pacific. The sustainability of many of these services however has yet to be proven. In recent years various digital payment solutions have been piloted, but in many cases usage rates remain low and as such the business case for these solutions remains tenuous.

With a rising interest by policy makers for the digital economy, and a nascent, but growing eCommerce market in the Pacific, businesses have been scrambling to find a solution to settle transactions from online business. As a result, many of the start-ups and even more established businesses who would like to venture into eCommerce work through all sorts of work-around solutions that are inefficient, expensive and very often non-compliant; settling in private accounts overseas, using PayPal and even using crypto-currencies etc.

b. Specific Objectives

To address these market failures, and especially the challenges around commercial viability, PFIP seeks to commission a market study with a focus on identification of opportunities to pool transactions from multiple Pacific markets through payments aggregation services to support the development of eCommerce and the digital economy in the Pacific.

c. Scope of Work

1. Assess current state and trends of retail payments sector in Papua New Guinea, Fiji, Solomon Islands, Vanuatu, Samoa and Tonga.
 - a. High-level mapping of the payment sector and its oversight and policy environment;
 - i. A description of the infrastructure, main oversight bodies, the legal foundations and division of responsibilities across the various types of financial institutions and payment channels and instruments;
 - ii. The structure of the market for core activities like acquiring and issuance of payment cards, mobile money and the principal participants (banks, switches, ACHs, MMOs, MNOs and other PSPs) involved;
 - iii. Access levels and usage of various payment instruments in the markets
 - iv. A past and future timeline of the introduction of policies and of market developments (incl infrastructure developments) related to digital payments; and
 - v. Current legal and policy issues of concern to regulators and market participants.

2. Deep dive into current state and trends of eCommerce payments in Papua New Guinea, Fiji, Solomon Islands, Vanuatu, Samoa and Tonga;
 - a. Quantify current demand and future projections for eCommerce payments in the Pacific region;
 - i. Identify main sectors of economy for potential growth in eCommerce payment types (e.g. travel/tourism, retail, agriculture, government (p2g) etc);
 - ii. Identify main channels for potential growth (e.g. mobile, web, etc);
 - iii. Identify main instruments for potential growth (e.g. card (by scheme type), mobile (e.g. QR) etc);
 - b. Identify opportunities and barriers in the eCommerce eco-system for payments aggregation services across multiple Pacific Island Countries, such as, but not limited to;
 - i. Supportive ICT, web-design and app development sector
 - ii. Uptake by merchants and buyers of online eCommerce platforms; with local scope (e.g. Maua in Samoa), regional, or with global scope (e.g. Amazon, Alibaba etc)
 - iii. Readiness in terms of skills and systems of existing and potential eCommerce merchants (e.g. PCI compliance)
 - iv. Integration readiness in terms of skills and systems of banks, MNO's and other potential payments service providers (e.g. API's available, use of ISO standards, PCI compliance etc)
 - v. Risks, such as AML/CFT, fraud, charge back and FX, and the way these are mitigated (e.g. security deposits)
 - vi. Potential legal and regulatory constraints, such as licensing/regulatory approval of PSP's, multi-jurisdictional pooling of eCommerce payment flows etc
3. Develop a roadmap that includes:
 - a. Recommendations for ways in which the governments, private sector and other stakeholders can promote the uptake of eCommerce payments;
 - i. Map out potential partners within government, financial services industry, corporates, donors, development partners, MNOs etc to work on these recommendations.
