A two-stage procedure is utilized in evaluating the submissions, with evaluation of the technical components being completed prior to any price proposals being opened and compared.

The price proposal will be opened only for submissions that passed the minimum technical score of 70% of the obtainable score of 1000 points in the evaluation of the technical component. The technical component is evaluated on the basis of its responsiveness to the Term of Reference (TOR). Maximum 1000 points will be given to the lowest offer and the other financial proposals will receive the points inversely proportional to their financial offers. i.e. $S_f = 1000 \times F_m / F$, in which $S_f$ is the financial score, $F_m$ is the lowest price and $F$ the price of the submission under consideration.

The weight of technical points is 70% and financial points is 30%.

TERMS OF REFERENCE

One international legal consultant

Expected Duration: From September to December 2020

Supervision: The three consultants will work in a team under the supervision of the Program Officer in charge in the UNDP Governance and Participation Unit and the Hanoi Procuratorate University (HPU) of the Supreme People’s Procuracy of Vietnam (SPP)

1. BACKGROUND

Assurance of adversarial principle in adjudication is the new principle that is first stipulated in a separate provision of the 2015 Criminal Procedure Code (CPC). According to the Article 26 of the CPC, Investigators, prosecutors, defendants, defense counsels and other persons participating in the criminal proceedings are equally entitled to present and evaluate evidences and make requests for clarification of objective truths of the cases. The courts are responsible for supporting prosecutors, defendants, defense councils and other participants in criminal proceedings to exercise all their rights and duties for ensuring adversarial principle before the court.

Even though the CPC has provided clearly the requirements for adversarial principle, in practice, the implementation of adversarial principle in criminal proceedings is still limited. One of the reasons is that trainings on adversarial skills for judicial officials at legal training institutions have not been given adequate attention.

In this context, Hanoi Procuratorate University (HPU) has requested UNDP to support for developing a training module for prosecutors on adversarial skills.
The EU Justice and Legal Empowerment Programme (EU JULE), implemented by UNDP and UNICEF together with relevant State agencies, is designed to strengthen the rule of law through a more reliable, trusted and better accessed justice system, and specifically to increase access to justice for women, children and those groups which face the greatest obstacles in using the justice system to invoke their rights, including ethnic minorities and poor people.

The objectives of the programme are to be achieved through a number of interventions, including increased public awareness and understanding of rights and how to invoke those rights according to principles enshrined in Vietnamese law, mechanisms and procedures for how to use the law, and options for seeking legal advice, assistance and representation.

Under the EU JULE, one of the key areas of intervention is to enhance integrity and transparency in the justice sector. Thus, development of a training module on adversarial skills for prosecutors will contribute to one of the expected results of the Programme.
