1. BACKGROUND

Project Title

Judicial Excellence to ensure Justice for All: Judicial Integrity Network in ASEAN

Project Description

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development emphasizes the critical role of well-functioning justice systems for sustainable development, particularly through Sustainable Development Goal 16 on Peaceful, Just and Inclusive Societies, which include targets like ensuring equal access to justice for all, reducing corruption and bribery, ensuring access to information, and building effective, accountable and inclusive institutions at all levels. Goal 16 is seen as an 'enabler' goal (SDG 16+), as peace, justice and strong institutions are all fundamental elements for accelerating progress towards other SDGs and guaranteeing that no one is left behind.

Judiciaries which uphold high standards of integrity and enjoy public trust are the cornerstone for ensuring equal access to justice for all; they are essential in combatting corruption and ensuring accountability. Accordingly, in 2018 UNDP, with support from the US Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs, launched the Judicial Integrity Network in ASEAN in partnership with the judiciaries of Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines and Thailand. The initiative is aimed at fostering transparency, promoting integrity and increasing public trust through exchange of good practices and peer-to-peer learning.

In the period of implementation between 2017-2019 the project achieved successful results:

- In response to the need of guidance identified by the network members, UNDP and the International Consortium for Court Excellence produced the Judicial Integrity Checklist, a tool specifically designed to complement the International Framework for Court Excellence (IFCE). The objective of the checklist is to support judiciaries in taking active steps to promote transparency, integrity and accountability within their courts, as part of the broader quality management systems.
- The tool was piloted in Malaysia and the experience was shared with the network members at the Second Meeting organized in March 2019, to reflect on the benefits of its implementation, as well as to identify areas for improvement both in the tool per se and its implementation. Following the conclusion for the self-assessment, UNDP provided technical assistance to incorporate the recommendations and implement the improvement action plan.

In its second phase (2019-2021) the project seeks to continue the peer-to-peer knowledge exchange, strengthen and institutionalize the network and develop collaboration with ASEAN bodies like the Council of ASEAN Chief Justices (CACJ), the ASEAN Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights (AICHR) and the International Association of Women Judges (IAWJ).

Finally, the initiative seeks opportunities to involve more and more women judges and experts in the network, as well as bring the topic of gender balance and gender inclusion as a way to positively affect judicial integrity, openness and fairness of the courts.

The outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic has affected the way in which knowledge is exchanged and consultations are held among Network members, with a shift towards online webinars and production of studies and guidance documents to be made available widely.

2. OBJECTIVE, SCOPE OF WORK, RESPONSIBILITIES AND DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPOSED ANALYTICAL WORK

Scope of Work

The International Consultant will lead the regional activities of the Judicial Integrity Network in ASEAN, particularly in relation to research, engagement with Network members (knowledge exchange and consultations) and Network management.

✓ Research

The consultant will work mainly on two themes for which members of the Network has expressed interest and need for guidance:

1) Challenges and opportunities of new technologies for judicial integrity: The consultant will develop a knowledge product analysing the increasing trend of digitalization and use of new technologies in the judiciary. This trend was already at the centre of the recent Global Judicial Integrity Network High Level Meeting, earlier this year, and it was accelerated by the outbreak of covid-19 pandemic. The application of new technologies to courts operations can, on one side, be an opportunity to accelerate digitalization, with courts shifting operations online, utilizing digital platforms and Artificial Intelligence (AI), and to explore “open justice” application. Nevertheless, new challenges emerge (for example in terms of risks to transparency, fair trial, accessibility to the technologies, demeanour of witnesses) and guidance needs to be developed to ensure that the core values of the Bangalore Principles of Judicial Conduct are upheld and citizen’s access to justice is not hindered.

The consultant will develop a product with an overview of the main challenges and opportunities that new technologies bring to judicial integrity globally, based on the current debate and existing articles, publications, blogs, followed by a deep dive on the judiciaries in the ASEAN region. The report will be informed by the case studies collected in the background paper “Justice in times of covid-19, Measures and responses” which gathered the inputs received by the Courts of Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines and Singapore, in occasion of the ‘Justice in Times of COVID-19’ Webinar (May 2020). The consultant will be required to research other case studies from judiciaries members of the Judicial Integrity Network in ASEAN, analyse trends and highlight good practices.

2) Gender and judicial integrity: The consultant will conduct research on the intersection between gender equality and judicial integrity, and specifically how to address phenomena such as sexual harassment, sextortion and bullying in the courts. More broadly, ensuring that courts provide equal opportunities for both women and men at every level of judiciaries is a key judicial integrity issue. The Bangalore Principles of Judicial Conduct do not address explicitly these phenomena and little guidance have been provided to date. The consultant will develop a background paper to inform brainstorming, generate discussion, engage in consultations on ways to address this topical issue with members of the Network, which will turn into actions in courts in the region.

The consultant will be responsible of the process from drafting an initial concept note to producing the final draft, conducting consultations with members of the Network and collecting inputs from courts and judiciaries that are part of the Network, as relevant.

✓ Network members engagement

The consultant will lead the engagement of the Network members on the themes above mentioned, from their conceptualization to the organization of informative and consultative sessions, including through the Judicial Integrity Network Webinar Series. The sessions organization includes the identification of the speakers, preparatory meetings and follow-up activities (i.e. dissemination of material). The webinars and online consultative sessions can either be an opportunity to collect data to feed into the knowledge products, or be a platform to present and disseminate the research findings.

✓ Network management

In coordination with the team in UNDP Bangkok Regional Hub (BRH) and the Network Advisory Group, the consultant will support Network management activities, including organization of consultations and joint events with partner organizations, such as the Council of ASEAN Chief Justices (CACJ), International Association of Women Judges (IAWJ) and the Global Judicial Integrity Network (GJIN). The consultant will also support, as needed, Members’ consultations on the set-up of the Network secretariat.
