Title: GIS - Implementation of sustainable digital solutions to improve basic service access of rural communities in The Gambia

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

Service Description:	Implementation of sustainable digital solutions to improve basic service access of rural communities in The Gambia.
Duty Station:	Home based with travel
Type of the Contract:	International or Specialised Subject company
Estimated Duration of Assignment:	Not exceeding 90 days
Duration of Initial Contract:	Not exceeding three (3) months up to 31 December 2020
Expected Start Date:	October 2020

II. BACKGROUND

Rural population in Gambia significantly lack access to basic services (energy, water, health, education, transport, economic services) compare to urban population. The prevalence of poverty stays important despite a slight decrease observed during the last few years. To address this situation and meet the sustainable development goals, the Gambia elaborated its four-year National Development Plan (NDP) with a 2030 Agenda with the vision to accelerate the realization of its development targets.

UNDP assisted the Government of The Gambia (GoTG) and helped it to initiate the Programme for Accelerated Community Development (PACD) which aims to foster indigenous, integrated and sustained economic growth to reduce inequalities in access to basic social services between rural and urban areas.

The aim of this program is to contribute to the significant improvement of the living conditions of people in the rural areas through improving sustainable access to basic socio-economic infrastructure and services, and the creation of a local economy for sustained and improved socio-economic development, social justice and equality.

The programme is organized in four streams of activities:

- Access to drinkable water, with the construction of 19 boreholes in the rural LGAs which will benefit to 44 communities
- Rural Electrification, through a grid extension and expansion programme which will benefit to 5 000 households from 19 communities
- Rural road accessibility; with the construction of 30 km road network in rural areas across 49 communities which will directly benefit to 2589 households
- Food Security, with the (i) provision of 20 postharvest and processing equipment to impact 125,000 people by reducing post-harvest losses and enhancing creation of value addition among the communities, and (ii) the provision of improved cattle and goat breeds

This programme is conducted in partnership with the private sector not only considered only a contractor or a supplier of goods and services but as an ecosystem activated to facilitate the implementation of the activities but also to impulse the creation of sustainable businesses and jobs within the beneficiary communities.

III. RATIONAL

Improving access of rural populations to basic social services such as water, electricity, road infrastructure and the economic empowerment of women through the implementation of community led socio-economic infrastructure programmes, will lead to improved opportunities such as employment as well as improvements in access to social services in the rural areas. This will curb migration of rural youths to urban growth centres and thus help improve availability of labour and skills to embark on livelihood programmes that will ultimately improve their socio-economic wellbeing. The strategy of the PACD is to target beneficiaries based on the expressed needs and work with public institutions and private sector to prioritize the interventions with a particular focus on those areas where little investments were needed to make a big impact. An integrated approach of project implementation is adopted to ensure that a multiplier effect can be generated by an efficient combination, planning and execution of the concerned projects. Such an approach requires to implement a robust and interactive monitoring and evaluation system exploiting digital solutions to efficiently track and guide the investment and construction activities of the PACD, to secure the profitable and sustainable use of these assets by the beneficiary communities, and capable to constantly feed the program with up to data on its impacts for the beneficiaries and the reduction of poverty in the concerned rural areas.

IV. FRAMEWORK OF THE ACTIVITY

The activity framed by these terms of reference comes under the NDP and the PACD, its Accelerated Community Development Programme. It will guide the implementation of the activity which aims to provide strong and undeniable evidences of the implementation efficiency of the basic services, equipment and assets provided by the PACD and of its measurable impacts on the socio-economic improvement of the beneficiary communities. For this purpose, the activity will be coordinated by UNDP, which acts as the Program Unit Manager (PMU) of the PACD.
