1. BACKGROUND

Project Title

Youth Co:Lab, Regional Youth Project on Leadership, Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Project Description

55 percent of the world's youth (aged 15-24 years), or over 660 million young people, live in Asia-Pacific. This generation is at the frontier of multiple global challenges: the climate crisis; the impacts of COVID-19 on already high rates of youth unemployment and economic insecurity; shrinking civic space; and intolerance, including in digital spaces. At the same time, young people in Asia Pacific are more educated, more connected and more innovative than any generation before them. From climate action to COVID-19 response, young people are demonstrating their potential and leading the way in shaping a vision for a more sustainable, inclusive and resilient future.

UNDP and its partners believe that young people can respond to the challenges facing their communities and their societies through innovative approaches and driving human development for themselves, their communities and their societies. Against this backdrop, UNDP Bangkok Regional Hub together with its partners is delivering a Regional Youth Project on Leadership, Innovation and Entrepreneurship (Youth Co:Lab). Co-created in 2017 by UNDP and the Citi

Foundation, Youth Co:Lab aims to establish a common agenda for countries in the Asia-Pacific region to empower and invest in youth, so that they can accelerate the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through leadership, social innovation and entrepreneurship.
