1. BACKGROUND

In recent years, we have seen considerable advances in the protection and promotion of the rights of persons with disabilities in Nepal. The 2015 Constitution has guaranteed many rights, including the right to equality, non-discrimination, right to education, and right to employment. With the adoption of the Disability Rights Act, 2017, and Regulation (2020), the expectation was that the situation would improve. However, the COVID-19 pandemic has further exacerbated pre-existing inequalities experienced by persons with disabilities in Nepal.

The Government of Nepal is making several efforts at the federal, provincial, and local levels to contain the virus, and efforts are being made to address the immediate negative impacts of COVID-19. Despite the efforts, there are still many areas that require further improvements and greater collaboration to ensure the issues of persons with disabilities are addressed at all levels.

The COVID-19 Preparedness and Response Plan (CPRP) covers certain aspects related to the persons with disabilities and their specific needs. The CPRP addresses specific concerns in relation to quarantine regulations and accessible communication materials. The Health Sector Response Plan adopted by the Ministry of Health and Population also addresses some issues related to the persons with disabilities, particularly accessible communication materials and critical medicines. However, from the broader perspective of protecting the rights of the persons with disabilities, a number of issues remain unaddressed. A rapid assessment of the impacts of COVID-19 and the nationwide lockdown on persons with disabilities was conducted by the National Federation of the Disabled Nepal (NFDN) with support from the UNDP through the funding support of UNPRPD. Handicap International has also conducted an immediate impact study.

According to the rapid assessment of NFDN, due to a lack of accessible information and awareness materials, 41.23% of persons with disabilities have little knowledge of the COVID-19 and 56% rely on friends and relatives for any information related to COVID-19. The measures adopted by the government to contain the virus were found to have a direct impact on the lives and livelihood of the general public and particularly persons with disabilities. Due to the lockdown, about 40.08% have lost their source of income, and 19.89% think that they will lose it soon. If we dissect the data further, the ratio of females losing the job comprises of 48.68% as compared to 51.32 % males. Many are also found without stock of food and essential non-food items, which is a serious concern. In addition to the food and livelihood, 7.5% are also found in need of psychosocial support, and 45% are in urgent need of hygiene materials such as catheters, tubes, masks, etc. These are indicative findings from the rapid assessment. However, a comprehensive study on the short- and long-term impacts of COVID-19 on persons with disabilities is yet to be carried out and is essential in ensuring that measures to address socio-economic impacts of COVID-19 are evidence-based and inclusive

The UN system in Nepal is committed to work and promote the rights of the persons with disabilities. The recently finalized UN Framework for Responding to the Socio-Economic Impacts of COVID-19 in Nepal mainstream addresses the needs of the persons with disabilities.

5. DOCUMENTS TO BE INCLUDED WHEN SUBMITTING THE PROPOSALS.

Interested individual consultants must submit the following documents/information to demonstrate their qualifications:

1. Proposal:

- (i) Explaining why they are the most suitable for the work
- (ii) Provide a brief methodology (qualitative and quantitative) on how they will approach and conduct the work

2. Financial proposal

3. Personal CV including past experience in similar projects and at least 3 references

Note:

- Applicants of 65 years or more require full medical examination and statement of fitness to work to engage in the consultancy.
- The candidate has to be an independent consultant (If the candidate is engaged with any organization, the organization employing the candidate will be issued with a Reimbursable Loan Agreement (RLA) to release the employee for the consultancy with UNDP.)
- Due to sheer number of applicants, the procurement unit will contact only competitively selected consultant.

6. FINANCIAL PROPOSAL

- Lump sum contracts

The financial proposal shall specify a total lump sum amount, and payment terms around specific and measurable (qualitative and quantitative) deliverables (i.e. whether payments fall in installments or upon completion of the entire contract). Payments are based upon output, i.e. upon delivery of the services specified in the TOR. In order to assist the requesting unit in the comparison of financial proposals, the financial proposal will include a breakdown of this lump sum amount (including travel, per diems, and number of anticipated working days).

Travel;

All envisaged travel costs must be included in the financial proposal. This includes all travel to join duty station/repatriation travel. In general, UNDP should not accept travel costs exceeding those of an economy class ticket. Should the IC wish to travel on a higher class he/she should do so using their own resources.

In the case of unforeseeable travel, payment of travel costs including tickets, lodging and terminal expenses should be agreed upon, between the respective business unit and Individual Consultant, prior to travel and will be reimbursed.

7. EVALUATION

Individual consultants will be evaluated based on the following methodologies:

2. Cumulative analysis

When using this weighted scoring method, the award of the contract should be made to the individual consultant whose offer has been evaluated and determined as:

a) responsive/compliant/acceptable, and b) Having received the highest score out of a pre-determined set of weighted technical and financial criteria specific to the solicitation.

\ Technical Criteria weight; 70%*

\ Financial Criteria weight; 30%*

Only candidates obtaining a minimum of 49 points in technical evaluation would be considered for the financial evaluation.

Criteria	Weight	Max. Point
Technical:	70%	70
Educational Qualification	10%	10
Experience At least 5 years of relevant working experience in research and analysis assessment in the disability or inclusion sector with demonstrated success in policy recommendations. (20)	20%	20

3. Purpose of the Assignment

With support from the UNPRPD, UNDP has planned to conduct a comprehensive situation analysis on the conditions of people with disabilities in Nepal prior to COVID-19 and the impact of COVID-19 on persons with disabilities. The comprehensive study about persons with disabilities will focus on women and representatives from marginalized groups and aims to inform policy and programmes of the Government, UN agencies, and the development partners.

The study will be conducted in collaboration with the other UNPRPD participating UN agencies, the National Federation of the Disabled Nepal (the umbrella organization), other Organizations of Persons with Disabilities (OPD's), and relevant line ministries responsible for disability inclusion in Nepal. The study will provide evidence-based recommendations and guidance and will also come up with the advocacy tools/checklist to promote the rights of the persons with disabilities in Nepal. The assessment will draw on an analysis of the pre-COVID-19 situation of persons with disabilities, including existing inequalities, discrimination, access to services, systems to ensure accessibility and overall system strengthening.

4. Scope of the Work

The scope of the work includes:

The assignment aims to develop a high-level analysis of the legislative and policy context regarding disability, and the outcomes for persons with disabilities in the pre and postCOVID-19 context. The consultant will be expected to:

- Review and summarise the pre-COVID-19 situation of persons with disabilities, including: legislative and policy framework, pre-COVID-19 investment in disability, required foundations for inclusion - non-discrimination, access to support services, and accessibility (using guidance and support from the technical secretariat) as a basis of analysing the impact of COVID-19 on persons with disabilities. The study should take an intersectional approach, recognising the compounding experiences of discrimination of persons with disabilities from historically marginalised groups.

- Conduct an in-depth analysis of the realisation of the rights and outcomes for persons with disabilities in the pre and post COVID-19 context. This should include access to justice, social protection, education, employment, health, political rights, rehabilitation, and disaster risk reduction and humanitarian action. Provide concrete recommendations for policy and programme interventions on enhancing the realisation of the rights and improving the wellbeing of persons with disabilities.
- Assess the information available and mechanisms for information dissemination, particularly on COVID-19 and its accessibility to the persons with disabilities.
- Identify the specific impact on women and girls with disabilities including intellectual and psychosocial disabilities.
- Conduct consultations and validation meetings with the relevant stakeholders, including relevant line ministries, UN agencies, the National Federation of the Disabled Nepal, and other Organizations of Persons with Disabilities representing various types of disabilities particularly working in invisible disability and other civil society organizations working on disability inclusion, private sectors to collect the inputs and refine the draft findings.
- Based on the study's findings, develop advocacy tools, and checklists to take forward the recommendations by various stakeholders, including OPDs.

5. Expected outputs and deliverables

The team should submit the following deliverables:

- Inception report with detailed methodology (including both qualitative and quantitative approach), work plan in response to the TOR, and drawing on the UNPRPD guidance for conducting an overview analysis of the rights of persons with disabilities. The inception report should also include a proposed schedule of the task, methodology, activities, and deliverables.
- Conduct an in-depth analysis of the situation pre-COVID-19 and impact of COVID-19 on persons with disabilities, referring to the guidance from the UNPRPD secretariat. This should include analysis of the overarching legislative and policy issues that impact on disability inclusion, as well as analysis of the access to rights and outcomes to social protection, legal, education, employment, political participation, health, and rehabilitation, disaster risk reduction and humanitarian action; through the review of documents, consultations, interview of different stakeholders, OPDs representatives, etc.
- Conduct meetings with the relevant stakeholders, including the relevant line Ministries, UN agencies, the National Federation of the Disabled Nepal, Organizations of the Persons with Disabilities, CSO's to better understand the situation before and after the COVID-19.
- Based on the findings, provide concrete policy and programmatic recommendations within close consultations with persons with disabilities.
- Develop and submit the advocacy tools and checklists that OPDs and other stakeholders can use for disability inclusion.

6. Team Composition and required competencies

The study team will consist of one international consultant- as a team leader supported by a national consultant. The team composition should be gender diverse.

Deliverables and estimated days:

- Inception Report (including final methodology, data collection tools, questions, proposed schedules, etc. (5 days)
- Desk review and analysis (10 days)
- Interview and analysis (10 days)
- Draft report with advocacy tool/checklist (5 days)
- Finalization and presentation of the findings (5 days)
