Bid Bulletin 4

RFP-050-PHL-2022

Services of a Firm for Research on Social and Behavioral Change and Impact Monitoring of a Communications Campaign for the 'Accelerating NDC through Circular Economy Project

Dear Bidders,

Please be informed that we received inquiries from interested firms for the above subject procurement.

Please refer to UNDP's response to a bidder's clarification.

	Bidder's Queries	UNDP Response
1	We structure our research teams differently, with 1 director, 1 economist (most similar to research lead), one manager (most similar to project manager) and one associate (most similar to data analyst). Would it be okay for us to simply propose an entirely different team structure, or do we need to exactly match the structure in the RFP to be considered using your criteria?	Bidders are welcome to propose their own staffing structure as long as the minimum qualifications and positions required in the TOR are fulfilled. Bidders can identify which one would be taking on the roles required if the title is different. For instance, Economist (Research Lead) and Manager (Project Manager).

Please be guided accordingly.

Thank you.
