TERMS OF REFERENCE

Title: Media distribution for the launch of UNDP flagship report on Human Development Report

Duration: 1 - 10 September 2022

Duty Station: Global/ worldwide

Project Background

The Bureau of External Relations and Advocacy (BERA) leads and supports the UN Development Programme (UNDP) in cultivating, building, and nurturing strategic relationships and alliances that are essential for advancing and successfully achieving the mission of UNDP. The main functions of BERA are (1) Resource mobilization, coordination and partnership management, (2) UN & Multilateral coherence, and (3) External communications to raise UNDP's profile and improve communication. Within BERA, the Communications Group leads and manages external communications through strategy, media, digital communications, marketing, branding and global storytelling. This includes a close collaboration with Human Development Report Office (HDRO), a multi-disciplinary unit located within the UNDP in New York with the mission to advance human development through the expansion of opportunities, choice, and freedom.

HDRO works towards this goal by promoting innovative ideas, advocating practical policy changes, and constructively challenging policies and approaches that constrain human development. Also, the office works with others to achieve change through publication of global reports and papers, publication of data analysis and index reports, as well as by supporting national and regional analysis, outreach, and advocacy work. HDRO produces annually the editorially independent, global Human Development Report (HDR). Since inception in 1990, this report has acted as a highly visible and influential people-centered contribution to development thinking. Each edition is launched globally and around the world by UNDP offices as contributions to public debate and policy making at national and global levels; picked up by global and national media, and the analysis – and annually updated human development indices and data sets - are used by governments, civil society and development partners in their policy formulation and advocacy.

UNDP 2021/22 Human Development Report

The 2021/22 Human Development Report focuses on the uncertain times we are living in. The COVID-19 pandemic, now in its third year, continues to spin off new variants. The war in Ukraine is reverberating throughout the world, causing immense human suffering, including a cost-of-living crisis, while climate and ecological disasters threaten the world daily.

So where do we go from here for a more hopeful future? How do we find new paths? And what is standing in the way of us moving there? The upcoming 2021/22 Human Development Report (HDR), "Uncertain Times, Unsettled Lives: Shaping our Future in a World in Transformation," seeks to address these questions.

Set to be released on 8 September, the 2021/22 HDR examines how inequalities and uncertainty are reinforcing one another to drive polarization and undermine our sense of control over our lives. But crucially, this report is also about opportunity. It argues that in the end, working towards shared goals and doubling down on human development are critical to creating a future in which we can all thrive, however uncertain.

Objective

The UNDP flagship report on human development is designed to ensure universal reach, with global, regional and country specific data and analysis. To support this, UNDP is seeking to recruit a PR agency who will expand and enhance media outreach for the report and its key messages, ensuring maximum visibility in key identified markets.

Scope of the assignment

Under the direct supervision of the HDRO Communications Specialist, in close collaboration with UNDP Head of Media, the PR company will disseminate the report press release towards 8 September 2022, the launch date of the report. The PR agency must translate the press release into 18 chosen languages and distribute to news and media outlets worldwide to help build momentum and secure maximum media coverage.
